SUBJECT: EXPANDED WARN INFORMATION ON EDD'S WEB SITE

The purpose of this information bulletin is to announce the availability of expanded information on the Employment Development Department's (EDD) Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification (WARN) Web site. This information bulletin updates Information Bulletin WIAB02-89, dated May 21, 2003.

Notices on the Web site may now be identified and sorted by Local Workforce Investment Area. Also, the list of WARN notices has been expanded effective July 2003, to include additional information from employers concerning layoffs or closures as reported under WARN and Cal-WARN. When reported by the employer, the following data are now available on the Web site:

- Name and telephone number of the company contact
- Company street address
- Whether or not the company has union representation, and the name and address of the union representative(s)
- Whether or not bumping rights were reported
- Whether or not severance pay was reported
- Job titles and the number of employees in each job title

To view the WARN Web site and for additional information about layoffs, go to: www.edd.cahwnet.gov/eddwarn.htm. To view the expanded WARN listings go to www.edd.ca.gov/eddwarncndab03.htm. We hope the publication of this expanded information will improve the availability of services for the employers and workers affected, and help to ease administrative burdens.
